

SILENCIUM LOQUOR

EDITEUR DE REGARDS

Silencium Loquor.

Silence speaks.

The world does not lack images. It lacks ways of seeing.

Silencium Loquor chooses restraint.

An architecture, a material, a light, a forgotten object.

Nothing is spectacular, yet everything deserves to be seen.

Each photograph begins on film, with cameras sometimes a century old.

Not out of nostalgia, but because this choice imposes a different rhythm.

This is not a collection of journeys.

It is a collection of ways of seeing.

A photograph is not merely made to be looked at.

It is made to inhabit silence.

THE WORKSHOP

This is where the works of Silencium Loquor take shape.

Each work follows the same path.

The gaze. The material. The paper. The wood.

Then, time.

THE MATERIAL OF SILENCE

The photograph

Medium-format Rolleiflex film camera, restored and maintained in the Silencium workshop.

The negative

Black-and-white film (Ilford FP4 Plus, Delta 100), developed in our own darkroom.

The print

Fine Art pigment print using a 12-colour ink system, produced by a specialist workshop in Rennes (France) on a Canon PRO-4600 printer, using dedicated ICC profiles for each paper.

The paper

Hahnemühle Photo Rag 308 gsm, mounted on 2 mm Dibond.

The frame

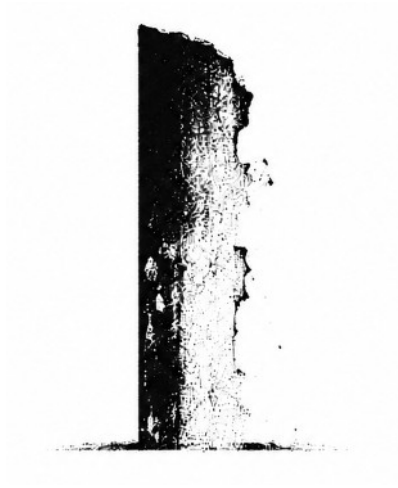

Selected solid woods (beech and sipo), handcrafted in France.

Hand-finished in the Silencium workshop and traditionally French-polished with shellac.

ÉDITEUR DE REGARDS

Le reste appartient au regard.

Some works find their place naturally.

Others are born from a dialogue.
